Section 1 – The Role

1.1 Role description and person specification

Role description

NHS England shares responsibility with the Secretary of State for Health and Social Care for promoting a comprehensive health system in England, for securing improvements in physical and mental health, and for the prevention, diagnosis and treatment of ill-health.

NHS England is responsible for arranging the provision of health services and for more than £186 billion of funds.

The Chair will play a crucial role in supporting and holding the organisation to account to deliver improvements in patients' care, value for money and broader health reforms, including the Government's three shifts (from analogue to digital, hospital to community and from sickness to prevention), and while also ensuring financial sustainability.

The Chair will ensure NHS England's strategic direction is aligned to wider Government health and social care policy and the wider missions of the Government – including the growth mission. The Chair will also ensure that the NHS England Board is accountable to the Secretary of State, Parliament and ultimately patients and the public, for organisational performance.

In delivering these responsibilities, the Chair will be required to:

- Provide strong leadership and accountability to:
  - ensure NHS England's strategic direction is aligned to wider Government health and social care policy and the wider missions of the Government – including the growth mission;
  - support delivery of the three shifts – from analogue to digital, treatment to prevention and hospital to community.
- Provide oversight and scrutiny of organisational performance, holding the executive to account against clear performance goals. In so doing, promote innovation and efficiency; ensure high standards of corporate governance, ensure all operational commitments are met and that the right financial balance is struck throughout.
- Work with Chief Executive to drive continuous improvement in the capability, efficiency and effectiveness of NHS England as an organisation.
- Work with the Chief Executive, maintain effective working relations with Ministers and senior Government officials, ensuring reporting requirements are met and that there is an open book approach to sharing information that enables Ministers to fulfil their statutory duties to Parliament and the Public. Lead and champion the 'one team' approach between NHS England and the Department.

- Chair board meetings and provide leadership and strategic oversight to the Board; ensuring the board's decision-making processes and affairs are conducted with probity and that the Board discharges its duties effectively.
- Participate actively as either the Chair or a member of the statutory and regulatory committees which support the delivery and oversight objectives of the Board.
- Provide counsel, advice and support to the Executive team and the Chief Executive in particular, playing the role of mentor/coach, "critical friend" and where necessary acting as a sounding board for potential proposals and ideas.
- Be responsible for the annual performance assessments of the Chief Executive and the Board's Non-Executive Directors, and the continuous development of the wider Board's capability, ensuring it has the right balance of skills and experience.
- Along with other Board members, represent the Board in the public arena and establish productive relationships with key stakeholders, including chairing Board-to-Board engagement with regulated bodies, those who represent patients and the public, and including partners in the social care sector, who are crucial to providing integrated care for patients. Likewise, maintain strong relationships with key private sector stakeholders who provide valuable NHS services, and actively support the NHS to contribute to the growth mission.
- Be a role model for leading cultural changes that will transform and improve the quality and efficiency of patient services and that will champion the Our NHS People promise for the NHS to become the best place of work for all.

Person specification

The Department of Health and Social Care values and promotes diversity and encourages applications from all sections of the community. The boards of public bodies should reflect the population they are there to serve. Boards also benefit from fresh perspectives, and we are always keen to encourage candidates new to public appointments to consider applying for our roles.

Essential Criteria

To be considered for appointment, you must be able to demonstrate that you have the qualities, skills and experience to meet all the essential criteria:

- Strong strategic leadership skills, with a significant record of achievement and of leading change and reform at the highest levels.

- Deep experience of leadership in the NHS or the wider health and care system and an understanding of the challenges faced.
- An understanding of the contribution local authorities make to delivering positive health outcomes.
- Ability to lead the board of a major national organisation, delivering robust governance and accountability, and developing executive and board performance.
- Excellent communicator, with an ability to collaborate effectively with others to drive change in a large, complex system.
- Committed to improving health and care outcomes for patients and the public, with an understanding of the strategic challenges and opportunities to deliver improvements.

Remuneration and status of appointment

£63k per annum.

Remuneration for this role is treated as employment income and will be subject to tax and National Insurance contributions, both of which will be deducted at source under PAYE before you are paid.

You can claim reimbursement for reasonable travel and subsistence costs which are properly and necessarily incurred on official business, in line with the travel and subsistence policy and rates of NHS England. However, these payments are taxable as earnings and will be subject to tax and national insurance, both of which will be deducted at source under PAYE before you are paid. A copy of the policy and rates can be obtained from NHS England.

This is an office holder appointment and as such it is not subject to the provisions of employment law. You will not be eligible for redundancy pay as you are not an employee. No other arrangements have been made for compensation upon the end of your term of appointment because an office holder who is appointed for a limited duration would have no expectation of serving beyond that period. You will not become a member of the Civil Service and will therefore not attract any benefits under any Civil Service Pension Scheme.

Time commitment

2 to 3 days per week.

Location

Board meetings are mainly held in London, but the Chair will travel for meetings and visits across England.

NHS England
Wellington House,
133-155 Waterloo Rd,
London
SE1 8UG

Tenure of office

Ministers will determine the length of the appointment, which will be up to 4 years.

The possibility of re-appointment for a further term is at the discretion of Ministers. There is no automatic presumption of re-appointment and each case is considered on its own merits. Merit will take into account a number of factors including, but not restricted to, the diversity of the current board, the balance of skills and experience it needs in the future, and the performance of an office holder during their first term. Office holders would only serve more than two terms or a total of ten years in post, by exception.

Accountability

The Chair is appointed by the Secretary of State for Health and Social Care and is accountable to the Secretary of State via a senior departmental official for carrying out their duties and for their performance.

1.2 NHS England: role and responsibilities

NHS England (NHSE) shares responsibility with the Secretary of State for Health and Social Care for promoting a comprehensive health system in England, for securing improvements in physical and mental health, and for the prevention, diagnosis and treatment of ill-health.

NHSE is responsible for arranging the provision of health services and for more than £186 billion of funds.

The Government sets out its priorities for NHSE in a statutory mandate. The Secretary of State has a legal duty to keep NHSE's performance against the mandate under review and publish an assessment of its overall performance annually.

The Government has decided that NHSE and the Department will increasingly work as 'one team' and this will be reflected in both the working practices of staff and the leadership expectations of the Chair and others. While the organisations will remain distinct legal entities, collaborative working will be the default approach.

This will support NHS England in its work to address both the near-term challenges of performance recovery and the longer-term challenges which will be the focus of the forthcoming Ten Year Plan.

The Secretary of State also delegates responsibility to NHSE for certain public health services – including for example, national immunisation programmes, cancer and non-cancer screening programmes, Child Health Information Services and public health services for adults and children in secure settings. Since October, additional public health functions were conferred upon NHSE following the abolition of Public Health England.

The Advisory Assessment Panel reserves the right to only consider applications that contain all of the elements you have been asked to provide and which are listed above, and that the applications are received before the published deadline.

In completing an application, please firstly note the following information set out below, in relation to:

- Disqualification from appointment
- Conflicts of interest
- Political activity and social media
- Standards in public life and ensuring public confidence.

Disqualification from appointment

The Cabinet Office sets out the following regarding all public appointments:

In general, you should have the right to work in the UK to be eligible to apply for a public appointment.

There are a small number of specialist roles that are not open to non-British citizens. Any nationality requirements will be specified in the vacancy details.

The Government expects all holders of public office to work to the highest personal and professional standards. You cannot be considered for a public appointment, which includes this role, if:

- you are disqualified from acting as a company director (under the Company Directors Disqualification Act 1986)
- have an unspent conviction on your criminal record
- your estate has been sequestrated in Scotland or you enter into a debt arrangement programme under Part 1 of the Debt Arrangement and Attachment (Scotland) Act 2002 (asp 17) as the debtor or have, under Scots law, granted a trust deed for creditors.

The Department of Health and Social Care also requires all those appointed by the Secretary of State for Health and Social Care to public appointments, to be a fit and proper person, comparable with the requirements placed on board members in the NHS. As a result, in addition to the above, you must:

- be of good character
- have the qualifications, competence, skills and experience which are necessary for you to carry out your duties
- have not been erased, removed or struck-off any applicable register of professionals maintained by a regulator of healthcare or social work professionals. If you are required to hold a registration with a relevant professional body to carry out your role, you must hold such registration and must have the entitlement to use any professional titles associated with this registration. Where you no longer meet the requirement to hold the registration, and if you are a healthcare professional, social worker or other professional registered with a healthcare or social care regulator, you must inform the regulator in question
- be capable by reason of health of properly performing tasks which are intrinsic to your role, after reasonable adjustments are made
- not be prohibited from holding office (for example, as a result of a directors disqualification order)

- not be on any 'barred' list
- not have been responsible for, contributed to or facilitated any serious misconduct or mismanagement (whether unlawful or not) in the course of carrying on a regulated activity or providing a service elsewhere which, if provided in England, would be a regulated activity
- within the last five years:
  - not have been convicted of a criminal offence and sentenced to imprisonment of three months or more
  - not have been un-discharged bankrupt nor have been subject to bankruptcy restrictions, or have made arrangement/compositions with creditors and has not discharged

In addition, legislation related to NHS England sets out how individuals are disqualified from appointment as NHS England Chair, if they are:

- A member of the House of Commons
- A member of the Northern Ireland Assembly
- A member of the Scottish Parliament
- A Chair or non-executive Director of an NHS Trust in England or a chair, vice-chair or non-executive Director of an NHS Trust in Wales.
- The Chair or a non-officer member of the NHS Business Services Authority
- The Chair or a non-officer member of NHS Resolution
- The Chair or a non-officer member of NHS Counter Fraud Authority

The above is only intended to act as a summary of the legislation and you should consider the relevant sections of the legislation in full, which are attached for your ease at Annex A to this document.

When sending your application online, you will be asked to confirm that the information you have provided is true and correct and that you are eligible to apply for a public appointment. As part of this, you will also confirm that you have read any disqualification criteria for the role, and that you are willing to stand down from any other role/s in order to take up the appointment. If you are currently disqualified from appointment, please provide further details in your supporting letter.

For further advice, please contact Rachael Gingell on Rachael.Gingell@dhsc.gov.uk.

Conflicts of interest

Before you apply you should carefully consider if you or a party related to you have any interests which could lead to a real or perceived conflict of interest if you were to be appointed.

When you apply you will be asked to complete, as part of the 'Outside interests and reputational issues' section, information on the following:

- Financial interests
- Employment, appointments and other outside roles

- Personal interests
- Any other relevant interests or activity.

You should declare anything relevant that you think may call into question your ability to properly discharge the responsibilities of the role you are applying for or may be perceived as having scope to do so by a reasonable member of the public.

Interests may include, (without limitation), any outside personal or business interests, any direct and indirect financial interests (such as shareholdings or share options in individual companies), or any positions of employment, other appointments or other positions of authority, that you or any party related to you have and which may influence your judgement in performing your public appointment or may be perceived by a reasonable member of the public as having scope to do so. A 'party related to you' could include for example (but without limitation) a spouse/partner, a business partner, a close family member or a person living in the same household as you.

Further help and examples of the types of things which you may need to disclose will be given to you on the relevant pages when you create your account and application on the public appointments application system (gov.uk website).

Many conflicts of interest can be satisfactorily resolved and declaring a potential conflict does not prevent you from being interviewed.

If you are shortlisted, the panel will discuss any potential conflicts with you during your interview, including any proposals you may have to mitigate them, and can record that in their advice to Ministers. If Ministers wish to appoint you, an offer of appointment may be subject to you giving up any unmanageable conflicts of interest.

If offered the role, you will be required to make a Declaration of Interests, which will need to include mitigations approved by the Department, for managing any potential conflicts of interest. Failure to declare a potential conflict of interest may become grounds for withdrawing an offer of appointment.

You will also be required to keep the Declaration up to date throughout the tenure of your appointment. The requirement to declare interests will also be included in your Terms and Conditions of appointment. Failure to disclose an interest, subject to the interest and the circumstances, may become grounds during the tenure of your appointment, for suspension or termination of your appointment.

Subject to the particular interest, you may also be required declare the interest to NHS England for inclusion on NHS England's published Register of Member Interests.

Political activity and social media

In the same section of your online application, you will also be asked to declare if you have undertaken any political activity for a political party within the last five years and for details of any social media accounts that can be viewed by the public.

Political activity

Political activity information is primarily for monitoring purposes only, however if you are shortlisted for interview, this information will be shared with the Advisory Assessment Panel. The reason for this, is that it is appreciated that such activities may have given you relevant skills, including experience gained from committee work, collective decision-making, resolving conflict and public speaking. If you have had such experience and you consider it relevant to your application for this post, you should also take the opportunity to include it separately in your supporting statement. If possible, you should not, however, identify the relevant political party in your statement.

If you are appointed to this role, please note that any political activity you declare and which meets the criteria for being politically active, as set out in the guidance when applying online, will be published in accordance with the Governance Code on Public Appointments. Political activity is not a bar to appointment, but it must be declared.

Social media

You can provide up to five public social media accounts and will be asked for the full URL of each. If you apply for a public appointment and are shortlisted for interview, DHSC will conduct appropriate checks, as part of which we reserve the right to consider anything in the public domain which may relate to your need to meet the requirements of the role to which you have applied and to hold public office. This may include searches of previous public statements and social media, blogs or any other publicly available information. We ask for information about your social media accounts to make sure these checks are carried out accurately.

Standards in public life and ensuring public confidence

If there are any issues in your personal or professional history that could, if you were appointed, be misconstrued, cause embarrassment to Ministers or NHS England or cause public confidence in the appointment to be jeopardised, it is important that you bring them to the attention of the Advisory Assessment Panel and provide details of the issue/s in your Supporting Statement.

This should include declaring in your Supporting Statement if:

- you are, or have been, bankrupt or you have made an arrangement with a creditor at any point, including the dates of this
- you are subject to a current police investigation
- there are any previous or pending personal conduct issues where:
  - a complaint/personal conduct issue has either been upheld or partly upheld
  - an investigation that relates at least in part to your personal conduct, is to take place but it is yet to start, or a similar such investigation is underway, but it is yet to conclude
  - a complaint/personal conduct issue is current, but at the time of your application it is yet to be confirmed whether or how it will be investigated further
- there are any possible reputational issues arising from your past actions or public statements that you have made (including through social media and blogs)
- there are any other matters which may mean you may not be able to meet the requirements of the Code of Conduct for Board Members of Public Bodies. You can access this document at: <https://www.gov.uk/government/publications/board-members-of-public-bodies-code-of-conduct>

Alongside your own declaration, we will also conduct due diligence checks, as noted above, on information in the public domain. Your declarations and information from our checks will be shared with the Panel, who may explore any issues with you as part of assessing your application.

Failure to disclose relevant information requested could result in an appointment offer being withdrawn or the appointment being terminated, as the person appointed to this role will be expected to demonstrate the highest standards of corporate and personal conduct and in line with standards set out in the Code of Conduct for Board Members of Public Bodies, which includes the Seven Principles of Public Life. As part of agreeing to the terms and conditions of appointment you will be expected to agree to meeting the standards set out in this Code.

CV

We ask that you aim to limit your CV to around 2 pages. Please ensure your CV includes:

- Your full name, title, home address, personal contact telephone numbers (land line and mobile) and personal email address
- Details of your education and qualifications, employment history, directorships, membership of professional bodies and any relevant publications or awards
- Contact details for at least two referees. One referee should be the person to whom you are/were accountable in your current/most recent appointment or position of employment. Please indicate the relationship of each referee to you.
- Brief details of your current or most recent post and the dates you occupied this role, and any past or present Ministerial appointments.

Supporting Statement

The Supporting Statement is your opportunity to demonstrate how you meet each of the criteria set out in the person specification. You may want to add the essential and/or desirable criteria set out in the role description as subheadings in your statement and provide evidence underneath these. This will help the Advisory Assessment Panel to see how your skills and expertise relate to the role.

Please also set out details regarding any potential reputational issues (see above guidance on Standards in Public life).

Please ensure your full name, the role to which you are applying and the corresponding reference number for the post are clearly noted at the top of your Statement.

Please write all acronyms in full first, limit your statement to two pages and type or write clearly in black ink.

You must inform the department if, during the application and assessment process, your circumstances change in respect to any information that has been or should have been provided by you in your application.

Equality Information

You will be asked to complete questions on equality information when completing your application online. If you have previously created an account, the responses from that previous application will be saved. You will have an opportunity to review and edit your responses before you submit an application.

We encourage applications from talented individuals from all backgrounds and across the whole of the United Kingdom. Boards of public bodies are most effective when they reflect the diversity of views of the public they serve.

We collect equality information, including information about applicants' characteristics and educational and professional backgrounds, so that we can make sure we are attracting a broad range of people to these roles and that our recruitment processes are fair for everyone. Without this information, it makes it difficult to see if our outreach is working, if the application process is having an unfair impact on certain groups and whether changes are making a positive difference.

The data you provide is used to produce anonymised management information about the diversity of applicants. You can select "prefer not to say" to any question you do not wish to answer. The information you provide will not be seen by the Advisory Assessment Panel.

Reasonable adjustments to the application process

We are committed to making reasonable adjustments to make sure applicants with disabilities, physical or mental health conditions, or other needs are not substantially disadvantaged when applying for public appointments. This can include changing the recruitment process to enable people who wish to apply to do so.

Some examples of adjustments are:

- ensuring that application forms are available in different or accessible formats
- making adaptations to interview locations
- allowing candidates to present their skills and experience in a different way
- giving additional detailed information on the assessment process to allow candidates time to prepare themselves
- allowing support workers to attend interviews, for example sign language interpreters
- making provision for support animals to attend interviews.

When you complete your application online, you will be given the opportunity to tick a box to request reasonable adjustment(s) to the application process at the "check your answers before sending your application" stage.

Disability Confident Scheme

The Department of Health and Social Care values diversity and is committed to equality of opportunity for all and the appointment of disabled people. We are a member of the Disability Confident Scheme, which helps recruit and retain disabled people.

As part of implementing the Scheme, we guarantee an interview to anyone with a disability whose application meets all the essential criteria in the person specification for the role and who has asked that their application is considered under the Scheme. Indicating that you wish your application to be considered under the Scheme will in no way prejudice your application.

What do we mean by a disability?

To be eligible for the Disability Confident Scheme you must have a disability or long-term health condition, which could be physical, sensory or mental and must be expected to last for at least 12 months. You do not have to be registered as a disabled person to apply under this Scheme.

If you wish to apply under the Scheme, please tick the relevant box at the “check your answers before sending your application” stage of your online application.

2.2 The Assessment Process

We will deal with your application as quickly as possible and will advise you of the likely timetable at each stage.

Planned timetable

- Closing date: Midday on Monday, 6 January 2025
- Shortlisting: 14 January 2025
- Interviews: 31 January 2025
- Select Committee Hearing: mid-March 2025

Advisory Assessment Panel

Advisory Assessment Panels (AAPs) are chosen by Ministers to assist them in their decision-making. Panels include a departmental official and an independent member. For competitions recruiting non-executive members of a board (apart from the Chair), the panel will usually include a representative from the public body concerned, normally the Chair.

AAPs perform a number of functions, including undertaking sifting, carrying out interviews and assessing objectively who meets the published appointment criteria for the role. It is then for the Minister to decide who to appoint to the role.

The panel will include:

- Matthew Style, DHSC Director General, Secondary Care & Integration, as panel chair
- Dame Jane Dacre, Emeritus Professor of Medical Education, University College London, as panel member
- Louise Ansari, Chief Executive of Healthwatch England, as panel member
- Libby Watkins, as the Senior Independent Panel Member (SIPM)

The SIPM is independent of both the Department of Health and Social Care and NHS England. As required by the Governance Code for Public Appointments, we have consulted the Commissioner for Public Appointments on the choice of SIPM for the panel and he was content.

Assessment

When the advert has closed, we will commission a pre-assessment of candidate applications which will then be provided to the Panel for consideration and to inform the shortlisting process. By applying, you are agreeing to your application being shared with another party for pre-assessment. If they wish to, Ministers can see the full list of candidates and provide their views to the panel ahead of shortlisting.

At the shortlisting meeting the Panel will assess applications against the essential criteria. It is the responsibility of the panel to determine who it believes best meet the criteria for the role, and who should be invited to interview. If you have applied under the Disability Confident Scheme and you meet all the essential criteria, then you will be invited for an interview.

If you apply under the Disability Confident Scheme and you are not shortlisted for interview, we can provide a summary of the assessment of your written application, if you choose to request feedback. However, we regret that due to the volume of applications received, we are only able to offer feedback to other candidates who have been unsuccessful at the interview stage.

If they wish to, Ministers can see the short list of candidates and provide their views to the panel ahead of interviews.

You will be advised (by e-mail) whether you have been shortlisted. Those shortlisted will be invited to an interview. Interviews will be conducted either face-to-face, normally in central London or by video/teleconference. We will confirm arrangements to shortlisted candidates in due course.

If you are invited to interview and are unable to attend on the set date, then an alternative date can only be offered at the discretion of the Panel.

The Panel will meet again to interview candidates and determine who meets the essential criteria and is therefore appointable to the role. The Panel may share the opening question with you in advance to allow you to prepare your answer. The Panel will go on to question you about your skills and experience, including asking specific questions to assess whether you meet the criteria set out for the post. They will also explore with you any potential conflicts of interest or any other issues arising from your personal and professional history which may impact on an appointment decision (see section 2.1 for further details).

Details of the Panel' assessment of interviewed candidates are provided to Ministers, including whether they have judged a candidate to be appointable to the role. It is then for Ministers to decide who should be appointed.

Ministers may choose to meet with candidates before making a decision. Candidates should therefore be prepared for a short time gap between interview and a final appointment decision being made. Candidates who have been interviewed will be kept informed of progress.

Once the decision on the appointment has been made, interviewed candidates will be advised of the outcome of their application, including whom they may approach for feedback, if they wish. We appreciate it takes a lot of time and effort to apply for roles, and prepare for and attend an interview, and that feedback is a valuable part of the process.

In some circumstances, Ministers may choose not to appoint and to re-run the competition.

Pre-appointment scrutiny

This role is subject to pre-appointment scrutiny by the Health and Social Care Select Committee.

Pre-appointment scrutiny is an important part of the appointment process for some of the most significant public appointments made by Ministers. It is designed to provide an added level of scrutiny to verify that the recruitment meets the principles set out in the Governance Code on Public Appointments.

The pre-appointment scrutiny aspect of the appointment has two parts.

First, information concerning the appointment and the Minister's preferred candidate is shared with the Select Committee. As part of this process, you will need to be content for your name and your CV to be shared with the Select Committee as the Government's preferred candidate. You may also be required to complete a pre-appointment hearing questionnaire sent by the Committee to you which could include, among other things:

- declarations of any relevant potential conflicts of interest
- what you see as the priorities and key risks for the organisation
- questions about how you would lead the board and work with stakeholders
- your commitment to standards in public life and how you would handle being in the public eye

Normally, any information provided to the Select Committee by the Government or by the candidate will be published.

Second, it is likely that the Committee will decide to call the Government's preferred candidate to a public pre-appointment hearing before the Committee to answer questions relating to their suitability to the role. You would not be expected to have an in-depth technical knowledge of how the body works or an exact plan of what you would do in the role, however you will be expected to provide a credible representation of your understanding of the work of the body and what your role in its future would be.

The Government is committed to making public appointments as accessible as possible so that no one is deterred from applying. The Department will provide support to you to help you prepare for the hearing and the Clerks to the Committee will also be available to discuss with you how the hearing will run. You will also be supported should you require any adjustment to enable you to participate fully in the hearing process.

For more information about pre-appointment scrutiny, please see the Cabinet Office Guidance: Pre-appointment scrutiny by House of Commons Select Committees.

The Liaison Committee also publishes guidelines to Select Committees for pre-appointment hearings. You may also find it helpful to review the Code of Conduct for Board Members of Public Bodies here: <https://www.gov.uk/government/publications/board-members-of-public-bodies-code-of-conduct> which sets out the expectations which the Government places on non-executive members of public bodies.

Following the hearing, the Committee will write to Ministers and make a public report which will include their views on your suitability for the role.

Following receiving and considering the Select Committee's report, Ministers will decide if they wish to appoint you to the role.

Offer of appointment

If you are successful, you will be contacted by officials to inform you of the offer and to ask you to confirm if you would be willing to accept. If you would, then the next steps will be to ask you to complete a Declaration of Interests form, which will be required to be signed-off by you and a senior official. DHSC will also conduct pre-appointment checks.

These checks are conducted on candidates to be appointed, prior to appointment. Your role is only initially offered subject to these checks being satisfactorily completed.

Some of the checks will be run by the department's Public Appointments Team and some will be commissioned by them from the Government Recruitment Service (GRS). Taken as a whole, the checks will include covering the requirements of the fit and proper person test, referred to earlier, and security checks.

The pre-appointment checks cover:

- identity check
- employment history
- references for the last 6 years of your employment
- occupational health assessment (where necessary)
- qualifications
- record of any upheld, ongoing or discontinued disciplinary, complaint, grievance, adverse employee behaviour or whistle-blowing findings
- Disclosure and Barring Service check
- professional registration/revalidation status (where required)
- insolvency check
- declaration of any settlement agreements
- a search of the Companies House register to ensure you are not disqualified as a director
- a search of the Charity Commission's register of removed trustees
- a check with the regulatory body for the NHS and relevant professional bodies where necessary
- social media check
- employment tribunal judgement check
- county court judgement check

Identity checks

The identity checks noted above will require you to initially provide three forms of documentation to verify your identity, and then provide further personal data, by completing an online form. The link to complete this form will be sent separately to you.

References

We will request two types of references as part of our due diligence process:

- those focused on assessing your fit against the person specification and your ability to meet the requirements of the role. To support that, we require that you provide contact details for two referees: one from your current or most recent main employer, and one from another suitably qualified person who can make such an assessment. The contact details of both referees should be included in your CV.

- those related to the fit and proper person test. If you are shortlisted, we will ask at that point that you provide the contact details of HR Directors or equivalent for any organisations you have been employed by or have held a Chair or Non-executive Director position with, in the last 6 years. These references will be focused on conduct: we will ask those organisations to confirm if there were or are any misconduct or grievance processes that we should be made aware of. When we request contact details from you, we will share with you the specific questions we will ask of your former employers, and we will seek your permission to approach them.
- Both sets of references described above will only be collected if you have been offered and are willing in principle to accept the role.

Occupational Health assessment

If you are offered an appointment, as part of standard pre-appointment checks, you will be asked a series of questions to ascertain whether you will need to undertake an Occupational Health assessment prior to being appointed. The Occupational Health assessment will determine whether you are fit to deliver the role and if you would need any reasonable adjustments to do so.

Appointment

On completion of your Declaration of Interests and the pre-appointment checks, you will receive a letter from Ministers appointing you as Chair of NHS England, which will confirm the terms and conditions on which the appointment is offered.

Announcement

All public appointments are announced on GOV.UK. The announcement is required to include the length of your appointment, the remuneration for the role and whether you have declared any political activity. We will share the draft announcement with you before it is made. A press notice may also be issued.
