Section 1 – The Role

1.1 Role description and person specification

Ministers are seeking to recruit a Non-Executive Director to the board of Health Research Authority (HRA).

Role description

The Health Research Authority (HRA) is an arm's length body of the Department of Health and Social Care. We protect and promote the interests of patients and the public by making it easy to do health and social care research that people can trust.

We ensure research involves the public in its design and conduct, is ethical, safe, legal, more accessible, and transparent; provide timely, reliable approvals; and coordinate the wider system so studies progress smoothly from concept to completion.

We have recently launched a new three strategy: Boosting Health research in the UK that will support delivery of the Governments 10-year health plan and growth mission.

The HRA's Non-Executive Directors (NEDs) play a key role in the effective governance and leadership of the organisation. They contribute to the work of the board, both by actively participating in board discussions and more widely, contributing to the board's governance, organisational culture, performance management and development of strategy for the HRA.

NEDs contribute to representing the HRA externally, maintaining (or developing where necessary) excellent relationships with a range of key partners and stakeholders such as the NHS, the public, industry, research funders and researchers, research ethics committees, other arms-length bodies and regulators.

They are also expected to contribute across a range of specific areas, including:

- ensuring the board listens to the public and patient voice;
- ensuring appropriate financial controls are in place and risks managed accordingly;
- contributing to the development and holding the board to account in delivery of strategy;
- ensuring that best practice is followed in leadership and people policies and behaviour.

Person specification

The Department of Health and Social Care values and promotes diversity. We encourage applications from talented individuals from all backgrounds and across the whole of the United Kingdom. Boards of public bodies are most effective when they reflect the diversity of views of the society they serve.

To be considered, you must be able to demonstrate that you have the qualities, skills and experience to meet all the essential criteria for appointment.

Essential Criteria

- A strong career track record of significant delivery at a senior level within the private, public or voluntary sectors.
- ability to operate effectively as part of a team on the board of a national public body, where you provide support, challenge and assurance.
- sound judgement, with an ability to provide effective scrutiny and challenge to the Executive and to hold them to account for the delivery of performance and strategy and delivery of digital transformation and organisational change;
- excellent communication and interpersonal skills, with the ability to gain the confidence of colleagues within your organisation and of its stakeholders;
- demonstrable interest in promoting the work of the HRA nationally and internationally.

Candidates must also be able to demonstrate skills and experience in at least one of the following areas:

- significant expertise in major organisational change programmes, ideally in a large public sector environment, involving external stakeholders and partners.
- an ability to evidence a commitment to driving continuous improvement and value for money for the public purse.
- experience of working in or with another Government department such as the Office for Life Sciences or the Department for Science, Innovation & Technology.

Desirable criteria:

- Experience in serving as an Executive Director or NED on a public or private sector board.

Remuneration and status of appointment

Health Research Authority Non-Executive Directors are remunerated at the standard rate of £7,883.

Remuneration for this role is treated as income and will be subject to tax and National Insurance contributions, both of which will be deducted at source under PAYE before you are paid.

You can claim reimbursement for reasonable travel and subsistence costs which are properly and necessarily incurred on official business, in line with the travel and subsistence policy and rates of the HRA. However, these payments are taxable as earnings and will be subject to tax and national insurance, both of which will be deducted at source under PAYE before you are paid. A copy of the policy and rates can be obtained from the HRA.

This is an office holder appointment and as such it is not subject to the provisions of employment law. You will not be eligible for redundancy pay as you are not an employee. No other arrangements have been made for compensation upon the end of your term of appointment because an office holder who is appointed for a limited duration would have no expectation of serving beyond that period. You will not become a member of the Civil Service and will therefore not attract any benefits under any Civil Service Pension Scheme.

Time commitment

2 to 3 days per month

Location

Board meetings are usually held at: 2 Redman Place, London, E20 1JQ.

Upcoming meeting dates:

18 March 2026

20 May 2026

15 July 2026 (private session)

16 September 2026

18 November 2026

Tenure of office

Ministers will determine the length of the appointment, which will be up to 3 or 4 years.

The possibility of re-appointment for a further term is at the discretion of Ministers. There is no automatic presumption of re-appointment; each case is considered on its own merits. Merit will take into account a number of factors including, but not restricted to, the diversity of the current board, the balance of skills and experience it needs in the future, and the performance of an office holder during their first term. Office holders would only serve more than two terms or a total of ten years in post, by exception.

Accountability

Non-Executive Directors are appointed by the Secretary of State for Health and Social Care and are accountable to the Secretary of State via the HRA Chair for carrying out their duties and for their performance.

1.2 HRA role and responsibilities

About the HRA

The Health Research Authority is a non-departmental public body, set up in 2011 and established under The Care Act 2014 with a mission to protect NHS patients, their tissue and their data when they are involved in research. We have transformed UK research regulation and governance by simplifying processes, removing duplication and reducing timelines.

HRA has precise statutory duties laid out in the Care Act of 2014 to protect and promote the interests of patients and the public in health and social care research. It administers Research Ethics Committees to assess proposals for health and adult social care research by:

- work with people to understand what they want research to look like and act on this so that they can trust research.
- make sure that people taking part in research are treated ethically and fairly by reviewing and approving health and social care research studies that involve people, their tissue or their data.
- work with other organisations across the UK to make sure that, wherever you are, research studies can be set up smoothly and are always subject to the same scrutiny before they start.
- work with others to coordinate and standardise the way research is set up and managed.
- encourage and support transparency about research so that everyone can find out what research is taking place, and what it found.
- are one of the gatekeepers of patient data making sure that information is protected if it's used for research.
- put in place and support the digital platforms to help research get set-up and managed in the UK.

How we work

Our 260 staff, who work at home and in our offices in Bristol, London, Manchester, Newcastle and Nottingham, provide specialist advice and learning to researchers about research ethics and governance. They also develop policies concerning research ethics and governance and support our committees and advisory groups to deliver our services. Our staff work with users of our services to design and put in place the digital systems used by the sector to set up studies. and effectively administer the organisation.

We could not operate without our HRA Community. The Community is made up of our Research Ethics Committees (REC) members, Confidentiality Advisory Group (CAG) members, and our Public Involvement Network (PIN) - which includes members of the public who have experience of, or have been impacted by, research.

They all make an invaluable contribution to our work and the experience of people taking part in research. They help us make sure that people can trust the research that we approve, so the research findings can improve care. They give their time generously, enabling the HRA to operate efficiently and respond rapidly when needed.

To deliver our ambition to make it easier to do research that people can trust and ensure that health and social care research is conducted with and for everyone, it is important that we are informed by a range of insights and experiences that reflect the population we serve.

We can make better decisions by working with a diverse group of people and we work with our HRA Community to ensure working with us is a positive experience, open to everyone.

The HRA has a robust governance framework in place with the Board's terms of reference set out in the HRA's standing orders and standing financial instructions.

In completing an application, please firstly note the following information set out below, in relation to:

- Disqualification from appointment
- Conflicts of interest
- Political activity and social media
- Standards in public life and ensuring public confidence.

Disqualification from appointment

The Cabinet Office sets out the following regarding all public appointments:

To hold the role as Non-Executive Directors of HRA you need a right to work in the UK.

There are a small number of specialist roles that are not open to non-British citizens. Any nationality requirements will be specified in the vacancy details.

The Department of Health and Social Care also requires all those appointed by the Secretary of State for Health and Social Care to public appointments, to be a fit and proper person, comparable with the requirements placed on board members in the NHS. - be of good character
- have the qualifications, competence, skills and experience which are necessary for you to carry out your duties
- have not been erased, removed or struck off any applicable register of professionals maintained by a regulator of healthcare or social work professionals. If you are required to hold a registration with a relevant professional body to carry out your role, you must hold such registration and must have the entitlement to use any professional titles associated with this registration. Where you no longer meet the requirement to hold the registration, and if you are a healthcare professional, social worker or other professional registered with a healthcare or social care regulator, you must inform the regulator in question
- be capable by reason of health of properly performing tasks which are intrinsic to your role, after reasonable adjustments are made

- You are the chair or non-officer member of NHS Resolution
- You are the chair or non-officer member of NHS Business Services Authority
- You are the Chair or non-officer member of NHS Counter Fraud Authority

The above is only intended to act as a summary of the legislation and you should consider the relevant sections of the legislation in full, which are attached for your ease at Annex A to this document.

When sending your application online, you will be asked to confirm that the information you have provided is true and correct and that you are eligible to apply for a public appointment. As part of this, you will also confirm that you have read any disqualification criteria for the role, and that you are willing to stand down from any other role/s in order to take up the appointment. If you are currently disqualified from appointment, please provide further details in your supporting letter.

For further advice, please contact Karen Dinsdale on Karen.Dinsdale@dhsc.gov.uk

Conflicts of interest

Before you apply you should carefully consider if you or a party related to you have any interests which could lead to a real or perceived conflict of interest if you were to be appointed.

When you apply you will be asked to complete, as part of the 'Outside interests and reputational issues' section, information on the following:

- Financial interests
- Employment, appointments and other outside roles
- Personal interests
- Any other relevant interests or activity.

You should declare anything relevant that you think may call into question your ability to properly discharge the responsibilities of the role you are applying for or may be perceived as having scope to do so by a reasonable member of the public.

Interests may include, (without limitation), any outside personal or business interests, any direct and indirect financial interests (such as shareholdings or share options in individual companies), or any positions of employment, other appointments or other positions of authority, that you or any party related to you have and which may influence your judgement in performing your public appointment or may be perceived by a reasonable member of the public as having scope to do so. A 'party related to you' could include for example (but without limitation) a spouse/partner, a business partner, a close family member or a person living in the same household as you.

Further help and examples of the types of things which you may need to disclose will be given to you on the relevant pages when you create your account and application on the public appointments application system (gov.uk website).

Many conflicts of interest can be satisfactorily resolved and declaring a potential conflict does not prevent you from being interviewed.

If you are shortlisted, the Advisory Assessment Panel will discuss any potential conflicts with you during your interview, including any proposals you may have to mitigate them, and can record that in their advice to Ministers. If Ministers wish to appoint you, an offer of appointment may be subject to you giving up any unmanageable conflicts of interest.

If offered the role, you will be required to make a Declaration of Interests, which will need to include mitigations approved by the Department, for managing any potential conflicts of interest. Failure to declare a potential conflict of interest may become grounds for withdrawing an offer of appointment.

You will also be required to keep the Declaration up to date throughout the tenure of your appointment. The requirement to declare interests will also be included in your Terms and Conditions of appointment. Failure to disclose an interest, subject to the interest and the circumstances, may become grounds during the tenure of your appointment, for suspension or termination of your appointment.

Subject to the particular interest, you may also be required declare the interest to HRA for inclusion on HRA's published Register of Member Interests.

Political activity and social media

In the same section of your online application, you will also be asked to declare if you have undertaken any political activity for a political party within the last five years and for details of any social media accounts that can be viewed by the public.

Political activity

Political activity information is primarily for monitoring purposes only, however if you are shortlisted for interview, this information will be shared with the Advisory Assessment Panel. The reason for this, is that it is appreciated that such activities may have given you relevant skills, including experience gained from committee work, collective decision-making, resolving conflict and public speaking. If you have had such experience and you consider it relevant to your application for this post, you should also take the opportunity to include it separately in your supporting statement. If possible, you should not, however, identify the relevant political party in your statement.

If you are appointed to this role, please note that any political activity you declare and which meets the criteria for being politically active, as set out in the guidance when applying online, will be published in accordance with the Governance Code on Public Appointments. Political activity is not a bar to appointment, but it must be declared.

Social media

You can provide up to five public social media accounts and will be asked for the full URL of each. If you apply for a public appointment and are shortlisted for interview, DHSC will conduct appropriate checks, as part of which we reserve the right to consider anything in the public domain which may relate to your need to meet the requirements of the role to which you have applied and to hold public office. This may include searches of previous public statements and social media, blogs or any other publicly available information. We ask for information about your social media accounts to make sure these checks are carried out accurately.

Standards in public life and ensuring public confidence

If there are any issues in your personal or professional history that could, if you were appointed, be misconstrued, cause embarrassment to Ministers or HRA or cause public confidence in the appointment to be jeopardised, it is important that you bring them to the attention of the Advisory Assessment Panel and provide details of the issue/s in your Supporting Statement.

This should include declaring in your Supporting Statement if:

- you are, or have been, bankrupt or you have made an arrangement with a creditor at any point, including the dates of this
- you are subject to a current police investigation
- there are any previous or pending personal conduct issues where:
 - a complaint/personal conduct issue has either been upheld or partly upheld
 - an investigation that relates at least in part to your personal conduct, is to take place but it is yet to start, or a similar such investigation is underway, but it is yet to conclude
 - a complaint/personal conduct issue is current, but at the time of your application it is yet to be confirmed whether or how it will be investigated further
- there are any possible reputational issues arising from your past actions or public statements that you have made (including through social media and blogs)
- there are any other matters which may mean you may not be able to meet the requirements of the Code of Conduct for Board Members of Public Bodies. You can access this document at: <https://www.gov.uk/government/publications/board-members-of-public-bodies-code-of-conduct>

Alongside your own declaration, we will also conduct due diligence checks, as noted above, on information in the public domain. Your declarations and information from our checks will be shared with the Advisory Assessment Panel, who may explore any issues with you as part of assessing your application.

Failure to disclose relevant information requested could result in an appointment offer being withdrawn or the appointment being terminated, as the person appointed to this role will be expected to demonstrate the highest standards of corporate and personal conduct and in line with standards set out in the Code of Conduct for Board Members of Public Bodies, which includes the Principles of Public Life. As part of agreeing to the terms and conditions of appointment you will be expected to agree to meeting the standards set out in this Code.

CV

We ask that you aim to limit your CV to around 2 pages. Please ensure your CV includes:

- Your full name, title, home address, personal contact telephone numbers (land line and mobile) and personal email address
- Details of your education and qualifications, employment history, directorships, membership of professional bodies and any relevant publications or awards
- Contact details for at least two referees. One referee should be the person to whom you are/were accountable in your current/most recent appointment or position of employment. Please indicate the relationship of each referee to you.
- Brief details of your current or most recent post and the dates you occupied this role, and any past or present Ministerial appointments.

Supporting Statement

The Supporting Statement is your opportunity to demonstrate how you meet each of the criteria set out in the person specification. You may want to add the essential and/or desirable criteria set out in the role description as subheadings in your statement and provide evidence underneath these. This will help the Advisory Assessment Panel to see how your skills and expertise relate to the role.

Please also set out details regarding any potential reputational issues (see above guidance on Standards in Public life).

Please ensure your full name, the role to which you are applying and the corresponding reference number for the post are clearly noted at the top of your Statement.

Please write all acronyms in full first, limit your statement to two pages and type or write clearly in black ink.

You must inform the department if, during the application and assessment process, your circumstances change in respect to any information that has been or should have been provided by you in your application.

Equality Information

You will be asked to complete questions on equality information when completing your application online. If you have previously created an account, the responses from that previous application will be saved. You will have an opportunity to review and edit your responses before you submit an application.

We encourage applications from talented individuals from all backgrounds and across the whole of the United Kingdom. Boards of public bodies are most effective when they reflect the diversity of views of the public they serve.

We collect equality information, including information about applicants' characteristics and educational and professional backgrounds, so that we can make sure we are attracting a broad range of people to these roles and that our recruitment processes are fair for everyone. Without this information, it makes it difficult to see if our outreach is working, if the application process is having an unfair impact on certain groups and whether changes are making a positive difference.

The data you provide is used to produce anonymised management information about the diversity of applicants. You can select "prefer not to say" to any question you do not wish to answer. The information you provide will not be seen by the Advisory Assessment Panel.

Reasonable adjustments to the application process

We are committed to making reasonable adjustments to make sure applicants with disabilities, physical or mental health conditions, or other needs are not substantially disadvantaged when applying for public appointments. This can include changing the recruitment process to enable people who wish to apply to do so.

Some examples of adjustments are:

- ensuring that application forms are available in different or accessible formats
- making adaptations to interview locations
- allowing candidates to present their skills and experience in a different way
- giving additional detailed information on the assessment process to allow candidates time to prepare themselves
- allowing support workers to attend interviews, for example sign language interpreters
- making provision for support animals to attend interviews.

When you complete your application online, you will be given the opportunity to tick a box to request reasonable adjustment(s) to the application process at the "check your answers before sending your application" stage.

Disability Confident Scheme

The Department of Health and Social Care values diversity and is committed to equality of opportunity for all and the appointment of disabled people. We are a member of the Disability Confident Scheme, which helps recruit and retain disabled people.

As part of implementing the Scheme, we guarantee an interview to anyone with a disability whose application meets all the essential criteria in the person specification for the role and who has asked that their application is considered under the Scheme. Indicating that you wish your application to be considered under the Scheme will in no way prejudice your application.

What do we mean by a disability?

To be eligible for the Disability Confident Scheme you must have a disability or long-term health condition, which could be physical, sensory or mental and must be expected to last for at least 12 months. You do not have to be registered as a disabled person to apply under this Scheme.

If you wish to apply under the Scheme, please tick the relevant box at the “check your answers before sending your application” stage of your online application.

2.2 The Assessment Process

We will deal with your application as quickly as possible and will advise you of the likely timetable at each stage.

Planned timetable

- Closing date: Midday on Tuesday 20 January 2026
- Shortlisting: Tuesday 10 February 2026
- Interviews: Tuesday 10 March 2026

Advisory Assessment Panel

Advisory Assessment Panels are chosen by Ministers to assist them in their decision-making. They include a departmental official and an independent member. For competitions recruiting non-executive members of a board (apart from the Chair), the Advisory Assessment Panel will usually include a representative from the public body concerned, normally the Chair.

Advisory Assessment Panels perform a number of functions, including undertaking sifting, carrying out interviews and assessing objectively who meets the published appointment criteria for the role. It is then for the Minister to decide who to appoint to the role.

The Advisory Assessment Panel will include:

- Gail Marzetti, Deputy Director Research and Systems, DHSC Senior Sponsor for HRA, as panel chair
- Neelam Patel, Chair of HRA, as panel member
- Tom Fowler as the Independent Panel Member

Assessment

When the advert has closed, we will commission a pre-assessment of candidate applications which will then be provided to the Advisory Assessment Panel for consideration and to inform the shortlisting process. By applying, you are agreeing to your application being shared with another party for pre-assessment. If they wish to, Ministers can see the full list of candidates and provide their views to the Advisory Assessment Panel ahead of shortlisting.

At the shortlisting meeting the Advisory Assessment Panel will assess applications against the essential criteria. It is the responsibility of the Advisory Assessment Panel to determine who it believes best meet the criteria for the role, and who should be invited to interview. If you have applied under the Disability Confident Scheme and you meet all the essential criteria, then you will be invited for an interview.

If you apply under the Disability Confident Scheme and you are not shortlisted for interview, we can provide a summary of the assessment of your written application, if you choose to request feedback. However, we regret that due to the volume of applications received, we are only able to offer feedback to other candidates who have been unsuccessful at the interview stage.

If they wish to, Ministers can see the short list of candidates and provide their views to the Advisory Assessment Panel ahead of interviews.

You will be advised (by e-mail) whether you have been shortlisted. Those shortlisted will be invited to an interview. Interviews will be conducted either face-to-face, normally in central London or by video/teleconference. We will confirm arrangements to shortlisted candidates in due course.

If you are invited to interview and are unable to attend on the set date, then an alternative date can only be offered at the discretion of the Advisory Assessment Panel.

The Advisory Assessment Panel will meet again to interview candidates and determine who meets the essential criteria and is therefore appointable to the role. They may share the opening question with you in advance to allow you to prepare your answer. The Advisory Assessment Panel will go on to question you about your skills and experience, including asking specific questions to assess whether you meet the criteria set out for the post. They will also explore with you any potential conflicts of interest or any other issues arising from your personal and professional history which may impact on an appointment decision (see section 2.1 for further details).

Details of the Advisory Assessment Panel's assessment of interviewed candidates are provided to Ministers, including whether they have judged a candidate to be appointable to the role. It is then for Ministers to decide who should be appointed.

Ministers may choose to meet with candidates before making a decision. Candidates should therefore be prepared for a short time gap between interview and a final appointment decision being made. Candidates who have been interviewed will be kept informed of progress.

Once the decision on the appointment has been made, interviewed candidates will be advised of the outcome of their application, including whom they may approach for feedback, if they wish. We appreciate it takes a lot of time and effort to apply for roles, and prepare for and attend an interview, and that feedback is a valuable part of the process. In some circumstances, Ministers may choose not to appoint and to re-run the competition.

Offer of appointment

If you are successful, you will be contacted by officials to inform you of the offer and to ask you to confirm if you would be willing to accept. If you would, then the next steps will be to ask you to complete a Declaration of Interests form, which will be required to be signed off by you and a senior official. DHSC will also conduct pre-appointment checks.

These checks are conducted on candidates to be appointed, prior to appointment. Your role is only initially offered subject to these checks being satisfactorily completed.

Some of the checks will be run by the department's Public Appointments Team and some will be commissioned by them from the Government Recruitment Service (GRS). Taken as a whole, the checks will include covering the requirements of the fit and proper person test, referred to earlier, and security checks.

The pre-appointment checks cover:

- identity check
- employment history
- references for the last 6 years of your employment
- occupational health assessment (where necessary)
- qualifications
- record of any upheld, ongoing or discontinued disciplinary, complaint, grievance, adverse employee behaviour or whistle-blowing findings
- Disclosure and Barring Service check
- professional registration/revalidation status (where required)
- insolvency check
- declaration of any settlement agreements
- a search of the Companies House register to ensure you are not disqualified as a director
- a search of the Charity Commission's register of removed trustees
- a check with the regulatory body for the NHS and relevant professional bodies where necessary
- social media check
- employment tribunal judgement check
- county court judgement check

Identity checks

The identity checks noted above will require you to initially provide three forms of documentation to verify your identity, and then provide further personal data, by completing an online form. The link to complete this form will be sent separately to you.

References

We will request two types of references as part of our due diligence process:

- those focused on assessing your fit against the person specification and your ability to meet the requirements of the role. To support that, we require that you provide contact details for two referees: one from your current or most recent main employer, and one from another suitably qualified person who can make such an assessment. The contact details of both referees should be included in your CV.
- those related to the fit and proper person test. If you are shortlisted, we will ask at that point that you provide the contact details of HR Directors or equivalent for any organisations you have been employed by or have held a Chair or Non-executive Director position with, in the last 6 years. These references will be focused on conduct: we will ask those organisations to confirm if there were or are any misconduct or grievance processes that we should be made aware of. When we request contact details from you, we will share with you the specific questions we will ask of your former employers, and we will seek your permission to approach them.

- Both sets of references described above will only be collected if you have been offered and are willing in principle to accept the role.

Occupational Health assessment

If you are offered an appointment, as part of standard pre-appointment checks, you will be asked a series of questions to ascertain whether you will need to undertake an Occupational Health assessment prior to being appointed. The Occupational Health assessment will determine whether you are fit to deliver the role and if you would need any reasonable adjustments to do so.

Appointment

On completion of your Declaration of Interests and the pre-appointment checks, you will receive a letter from Ministers appointing you as a NED of HRA which will confirm the terms and conditions on which the appointment is offered.

Announcement

All public appointments are announced on GOV.UK. The announcement is required to include the length of your appointment, the remuneration for the role and whether you have declared any political activity. We will share the draft announcement with you before it is made. A press notice may also be issued.

Queries

For any queries about your application status or the selection process, please contact Karen Dinsdale in DHSC's Public Appointments Team:
